FUSION IN NEW YORK.

Democrats and Populists Arrange for a Combination.

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 17.—In the democratic state convention the principal strife is to prevent the adoption of the unit rule and the nomination of any candidate without a fair, open fight. There is bitter opposition to the state, which still has John Boyd Thacher for governor, and complications may arise which will change the ticket.

It was 12:30 o'clock Wednesday when Chairman Hinkley rapped the democratic state convention to order and announced that the state committee had selected State Senator Thomas F. Grady for temporary chairman. Mr. Grady addressed the convention. After a brief reference to state issues he spoke of Bryan and Sewall as "candidates of stainless character, commanding abilities, acknowledged worth and tried devotion." Mr. Ridgeway offered a resolution, which was referred to the committee on platform to be appointed, endorsing the work of the Chicago convention and pledging hearty and honest support of its nominees. After other resolutions had been referred and committees named, the convention took a recess until 10 o'clock a. m. to-day.

The greatest excitement of the day was caused by the announcement that there had been a practical fusion of the populists and democrats. The platform as drafted will have as its first proposition this statement: "The democrats of the state of New York, in convention assembled, do hereby unreservedly endorse and approve the platform adopted by the national convention at Chicago; and we hereby unanimously approve the nominees of said convention, William Jennings Bryan and Arthur Sewall, and pledge them our earnest and cordial support."

The convention consists of 159 delegates apportioned as follows: Newcastle county, 79; Kent county, 30; and Sussex county, 50. The convention will be held as a means of perfecting the organization of the single-tax party, and to declare its position on the issues before the country and state. There are upward of 5,000 "single-taxers" in Delaware.

Populists at Outs in Indiana.—Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 17.—Some of the populists of this state are said to object to the fusion plans agreed upon two weeks ago and which are already partly in operation. Many of the representatives of the party have come here to attend a conference of populists and democrats to consider the situation. There will be a determined effort on the part of the "middle of the road" populists to set aside all negotiations for fusion until Sewall is removed from the national ticket. The democrats have agreed to offer at least three places on the electoral ticket to the populists.

Arnold Denies the Report.—Galveston, Texas, Sept. 17.—The attention of Grand Secretary Arnold of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen was called to a dispatch stating that Eugene V. Hastings of Pennsylvania and Gov. Bushnell of Ohio will be present and speak. The railroads which enter Canton have already arranged for fifty special trains, consisting of from ten to fifteen coaches each. Upward of 14,000 people are expected from Pittsburgh alone. A large delegation is coming from Wheeling, including the Elkins cadets. A large delegation of wheelmen is expected from Toledo and Detroit. The delegation, several thousand in number, will leave its train at Massillon, eight miles west of here, and make its entrance into Canton on bicycles. The delegations are coming from Cincinnati, Kentucky and Indiana. Six states will be represented. The present estimate of the crowd which is likely to attend is 50,000.

Harrison Refuses to Speak.—Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 17.—William T. Durbin, member of the national republican committee from this state, came from Chicago Wednesday with the news that Gen. Harrison would not make any engagements to speak in Indiana. The ex-president said before he went east that he would not make any speeches in the state so long as John K. Gowdy was at the head of the committee. He declared that he was ill treated by the chairman and other members of the committee prior to the St. Louis convention. Committeeman Durbin informed the party managers that a few days ago he received a letter from the general stating positively that he would take no assignments.

Senator Thurston at Elgin, Ill.—Elgin, Ill., Sept. 17.—Senator John M. Thurston of Nebraska had a large audience at Lord's park Wednesday to hear his discussion of political issues. Visiting delegations came from all directions, excursions on steam and trolley lines bringing thousands. They arrived from Aurora, Batavia, Geneva, St. Charles, Dundee, Carpentersville, Woodstock and elsewhere. Marching clubs in uniform, accompanied by bands, formed, with the Elgin clubs, a procession reaching from the bridge to the park, with 1,500 in line. The streets were thronged, and business houses throughout the city and many residences along the route were handsomely decorated.

Big Parade in Minneapolis.—Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 17.—A great demonstration was made Wednesday night on the occasion of Bourke Cockran's address. The parade was the largest ever seen in this city. The large Pillsbury mills turned out several hundred men and at their head in the parade marched Charles A. Pillsbury. At Exposition hall, where the meeting took place, not one-third of the people who applied for admittance could be seated, although the capacity of the building is about 10,000.

South Dakota Republicans.—Sioux Falls, S. D., Sept. 17.—The state central committee of free-silver republicans is in session here, mapping out a line of campaign work for the state. A thorough organization is to be perfected, a fund raised and an independent line of work carried out.

POPOCRAT CONTINUES HIS SOUTHERN JOURNEY.

Thousands Gather at Stations Along the Route to Cheer the Free Silver Nominee—New York Democrats Arranging For Fusion With Populists—More Political News.

Asheville, N. C., Sept. 17.—Bryan was given a most hearty welcome when he arrived here Wednesday. It was the first time since 1844 that a presidential nominee had visited this part of the country, and the farmers for miles around gathered here by thousands to cheer the candidate. Mr. Bryan was driven to the Battery Park hotel, where he and members of the democratic organizations here were given an elaborate dinner by E. P. McKissick. The party then drove to a platform in a valley between the great hills, where Mr. Bryan addressed a crowd.

Hickory, N. C., Sept. 17.—The trip from Asheville to this city was but a repetition of the day's ride. At nearly every station the train stopped a few minutes, and Mr. Bryan made a short speech. At Hickory the arrival of the nominee was announced by the firing of the anvils and the loud hurrahs of the 4,000 people assembled to see and hear a presidential nominee. Mr. Bryan made a short speech explaining the silver question along the general lines followed by him, but bringing out some new illustrations. After the Hickory address the nominee went to Charlotte.

Knoxville, Tenn., Sept. 17.—W. J. Bryan began work at 2 o'clock Wednesday morning. He was going through the city of Somerset, and 500 of the citizens of Somerset disturbed their rest in order to hear the nominee. They shouted long and loud, and the few remarks of Mr. Bryan were well received. At Oliver Springs a reception committee of twenty-five from Knoxville got on the train, headed by J. W. Sneed and 200 members of the Oliver Springs Silver club.

All night long people had been assembling on the streets of Knoxville. They had come in by excursion trains, and the farmers for miles around had driven in to hear the nominee. It was one of the greatest days that Knoxville ever knew, and the oldest citizens could not remember when such a crowd had assembled to greet any man. The train arrived in Knoxville shortly before 8 o'clock, and Mr. Bryan was taken immediately to the speaker's stand erected in front of the courthouse. He was introduced by ex-Gov. Robert T. Taylor. There were between 14,000 and 18,000 people in the audience to which Mr. Bryan spoke.

When Mr. Bryan concluded his speech he was taken to the depot, where the crowd had again assembled, and the police had a hard time to get him through. At 9:40 the party was on its way from Knoxville. The Knoxville committee which received Mr. Bryan escorted him back to Asheville, and at Hot Springs, N. C., the committee from Asheville took the train in charge. The first stop after leaving Knoxville was at Mossy Creek, where the usual hand-shaking process was gone through with a few hundred people gathered about the place.

At 10:45 o'clock Morristown was reached, and here Mr. Bryan spoke a few minutes to the 1,500 people about the car. Four hundred people were in the crowd at Newport, the last stop of the special train in Tennessee. To them Mr. Bryan made a few remarks from a covered platform erected near the track. The trip from Knoxville to Asheville was one of the pleasantest Mr. Bryan has had.

The last stop before Asheville was reached was at Hot Springs, the summer and winter resort, where several hundred people met Mr. Bryan and cheered him. The train whizzed by the little village of Marshall and the 200 people on the depot platform shouted as they caught a glimpse of Mr. Bryan who came to the rear platform of the train.

Planning a Great Meeting.—Washington, Sept. 17.—Lawrence Gardner, secretary of the association of democratic clubs, has returned from the west, where he has been making preparation for the national club meeting, to be held at St. Louis October 3. Mr. Gardner says the indications are that the convention will be one of the largest and most enthusiastic ever held by the organization. The central office has already registered about 2,000 democratic clubs, and they are especially numerous in the Mississippi valley states, from which the principal attendance is expected. A number of the party leaders, including Messrs. Bryan and Sewall and Senators Jones, Faulkner and Daniel, are expected to be present.

Silver Men in Connecticut.—New Haven, Conn., Sept. 17.—The free silver men controlled the democratic state convention Wednesday. The platform adopted indorses the platform adopted at Chicago by the democratic national convention, and pledges earnest and faithful support to Bryan and Sewall. The following nominations for the several state offices were made: For governor, Joseph B. Sargent; for lieutenant-governor, S. A. Crandall; for secretary of state, Homer S. Cummings; for treasurer, Adrian P. Ross; for comptroller, Edward M. Ripley.

"NEW TRIPLE ALLIANCE."

Gigantic Combination Advocated by a London Newspaper.

London, Sept. 17.—The St. James Gazette publishes a leading editorial article headed: "A new triple alliance."

The Gazette points out the menacing tone of the continental semi-official press on the subject of Turkey and says: "We are openly threatened with joint hostile European action if we interfere (in Turkey) against the will of the powers. But there is one combination which British statesmanship might effect. Two states which have little to gain from Russia could act with us and end the tension." The United States and Italy are both understood to be friendly to Russia.

Continuing, the St. James Gazette points out that Italy is ready to join England in this matter if invited. The article concludes: "It might be expected that the Russian combination would go to pieces at the mere aspect of this genuine league of peace and that the new dreibund might lead to a fresh grouping of the powers and the delivery of Europe both from Turkish misrule and the dangerous thralldom to Russia into which it is sinking."

GOEZ TO STRIKE.

He Prepares for Another Invasion of the West.

Havana, Sept. 13, via Key West, Sept. 16.—Gen. Weyler is doing practically nothing from a military standpoint. The insurgents, in full possession of the field, are organizing and drilling their forces for next winter's campaign.

Gomez, in the far east, is preparing his next invasion of the western provinces, and has determined, with the ample resources he has now at his command, to strike a decisive blow at Spanish rule in Cuba. Maceo perfectly well intrenched in the fastness of the Cizco mountains in Pinar del Rio is ready to receive the onslaught of all the Spanish forces, which, it is said, will be thrown on him as soon as the new re-enforcements arrive from Spain. He will, no doubt, repel them, as he formerly did, when they tried to dislodge him from the Caracajicara and Rubi hills.

Italy Takes a Forward Step.

Washington, Sept. 17.—The Italian government has set upon the task of breaking down the system which has prevailed in the sulphur mining districts similar to that which once obtained in some of our industries of making payment of wages to miners through store orders. Notice is also given to the mine owners of an intention to enforce rigorously the provisions of the law framed to prevent the employment of young children in the sulphur mines, which has been largely infringed of late.

Warship Texas Ashore.

Newport, R. I., Sept. 17.—The battleship Texas, which left the North Atlantic squadron Wednesday afternoon for the purpose of getting a supply of torpedoes here, struck a rock while coming into the harbor at 5:50 o'clock, and is hard and fast. She rests on the rock amidships, and resisted all attempts made by the tug Aquidneck to dislodge her. The position of the vessel is a dangerous one, and should a storm set in it would go hard with her.

Minister Willis Makes Denial.

Honolulu, Sept. 9, via San Francisco, Sept. 17, per steamer Australia.—Minister Willis denies that President Cleveland empowered him to negotiate with the Dole government for either annexation or return to a monarchical form of government. He said the matter had never even been referred to at Washington.

IN GOOD CONDITION THE REPORTS SAY

AMERICAN BOARD OF MISSIONS OUT OF DEBT.

The Annual Treasury Statement Shows the First Financial Surplus in Four Years—Generous Gifts and Economy Produce This Result—The Figures in Detail.

Boston, Sept. 17.—The financial statement of the American board of missions shows that for the first time since Aug. 31, 1892, it has been able to close its business year without a debt. The churches and individuals of the board's constituency have not only rallied generously to remove the debt, but have contributed sufficiently to overcome a considerable shrinkage in legacies. Retrenchment on mission fields and extreme economy in administration have been necessary. The total receipts have been $426,104, and the total expenditures $627,969, leaving a balance of $115,135. Deducting from this the debt of a year ago, a balance is left in the treasury of $502. The regular donations were $426,730. The donations for special objects were $43,989, and legacies $116,988. The total receipts from all sources were $734,104. In addition to the above and aside from all receipts for the work of the board, $130,035.96 has been forwarded for Armenian relief, and more than $80,000 for Armenians in Turkey from Armenian friends and relatives in this country.

SULTAN IS ALARMED.

Turkish Government Fears the Dardanelles May Be Forced.

Constantinople, Sept. 17.—The young Turk party is covering the city with placards inciting the people to dethrone the sultan. Serious trouble, it is added, is certain to occur within a week. Old Turkish troop-ships are nightly deporting Armenians to the Black Sea, where, it is believed, they are drowned. The British residents, at the instance of the British embassy, have telegraphed Lord Salisbury, stating that their lives and property are in danger. The French residents have taken similar action. British and French fleets are now near the mouth of the Dardanelles. Fuad Pasha, one of the sultan's aide-de-camps, was questioned as to how long the forts along the Dardanelles could check the passage of the warships and he replied that they could stop them for almost half an hour.

WILHELMI A SEER AND NO MISTAKE

WONDERFUL THINGS DONE BY THE CLAIRVOYANT.

Revelations Are Marvelous, and Astonish His Visitors—Is a Graduate of Heidelberg University in Germany—His Trip in India With the High Priestess of the World.

Wonderful indeed, are the things done by Prof. Wilhelm, the clairvoyant, who is now located in the Murdock flats. His achievements have been the talk of the town since he came to Janesville.

He told L. R. Treat that he would sell his house inside of two weeks to A. E. Matheson, which deal was afterward consummated.

He told George S. Parker all about a business transaction that involved several thousand dollars.

He told a lady who had lost her watch where the timepiece was. Acting on his advice, she got a constable and recovered the property.

He told a farmer where to find his lost jag of cider, and made many other strange revelations during his stay here.

At Wausau, some weeks ago, he told Mr. Silverthorn that he would get the democratic nomination for governor.

The professor gives advice on all subjects and can tell his clients things that their parents, their friends or their ministers could not. In all cases known of, the advice given has been good. He is certainly possessed of wonderful power and has done some very strange things. So great have been the crowds who called to see him, that he has been compelled to turn people away on numerous occasions in order to get the rest that his arduous labors require.

Has Pleasant Personality.

The professor is a very pleasant man to meet. He claims to be a graduate of the law school at Heidelberg, Germany. He is thirty-five years of age, he states, and has been in this country for seventeen years, having followed his present calling for the past twelve years. On his arrival in the United States, the professor served as a tutor of the German language, teaching by natural methods. This was followed by employment on some of the eastern newspapers. He then became interested in so-called clairvoyance, mesmerism and mind reading, and being firmly convinced that he possessed apparently supernatural powers in a rare degree, he set about training himself for his profession, with the result that he today ranks high as a clairvoyant.

Once Visited India.

Some years ago he visited India with Madame Plavotsky, the high priestess of theosophy of the world, who recently died in Russia.

The professor also has engagements to lecture before the theosophy class in Milwaukee.

He states that a person possessing true clairvoyant powers must to a great extent be endowed with such at birth to be thoroughly successful, though they can improve themselves greatly by the cultivation of these powers. He claims to have a spiritual eye and a spiritual ear that are entirely closed to outward surroundings, and that they see and hear that which is invisible to the public generally. The professor is very arbitrary. If a person enters his studio who is sad and melancholy, he expresses himself as dissatisfied with the subject and makes the sitting as short as possible.

Young Men Are Bashful.

The young men are bashful about approaching the professor in the day time, and the majority of them come after dark and then by a side street. He invites the ladies after they have been to see him once to call again as many times as they choose and ask as many questions as they care to, without any charge.

It is to be presumed that the professor makes predictions for some persons that the subjects fail to recognize as the truth, but the patronage that he is receiving would indicate that these cases are few. In the cases many well known people who have visited him, the professor, even though he had been forewarned and had collected data bearing on the life of each, could not have learned some facts that were said to them had he not been the possessor of a power that is very mystifying to say the least.

Is An Interesting Scene

A visit to the professor is very interesting.

"What are you here for?" is his first question, and it is quickly followed by "any of your folks ever been here to see me?"

The "patient" then asks questions, and all are answered quickly. Handing the visitor a slip of paper taken from a bunch lying on the table, he told him to write down on it such questions pertaining to the present, past or future that he desired answered. The request was complied with and the paper was folded up and placed in the professor's hand, who conveyed it to his forehead. It clung there for a moment without any pressure being exerted and was then placed on the table by the professor. The visitor was told to write some more questions and he did so, the same mode of procedure being followed with each slip of paper, the professor all the time in a dreamy way asking whether or not any of the family had been to consult him. He was apparently talking more to himself than to his "patient," for his question was not answered more than once or twice and then the professor could not have told by the reply he received whether there were twenty members or one member.

After writing fully ten questions on half as many slips of paper, the visitor was requested to press the entire number against the forehead of the professor. This was done, and the slips, replaced on the table, after which the fun or more seriously, the wonderful part of the evening's sitting commenced. Grasping the subject's right hand and wrist with his right hand, the professor placed his left hand to his head, covering his eyes. Hardly had the circuit been made before the visitor thought he was grasping the coil of an electric battery. The professor being possessed of a highly keyed, sensitive, nervous organization, the flow of magnetism was most pronounced. In a few minutes, the dummy, for so the professor while in this seance might be termed, commenced to speak in quick, jerky accents. Then followed an exhaustive historical sketch of each member of the family to which the visitor belongs.

Talked For Fifteen Minutes.

First and second names were given of each and every one, whether living or dead, were all told correctly, without any questioning or hesitation on the part of the professor. Private affairs known only to the family were related with apparent ease. Drawing it mildly, the "patient" was thoroughly astonished and the revelations continued to come so rapidly that he nearly went into a trance himself. For fifteen or twenty minutes the professor had fun with the visitor, and though the latter did not call "enough," yet he was thoroughly satisfied when the professor dropped his hand and came out of the trance.

Professor Wilhelm left for Milwaukee last night, as he lectures before the Theosophic club at that city Sunday evening. He will return to Janesville on Monday and remain four days. People who wish to see him should plan accordingly.

BURGLARS RAIDED EVANSVILLE HOMES

THREE HOUSES VISITED IN

Pocketbook and a Silver Watch Were the Only Articles Taken—Band I. Association Meets at Beloit—Line City Men in Trouble—County News.

Evansville, Wis., Sept. 16—Burglars broke into three houses in this city last night, and tried to get into two other places, but were frightened away.

They frequently get into scrapes and they misused their parents to a shameful degree and threatened to kill their sister with a knife. Frank Chamberlain forgot to put on his night "specs" so he did not know that it was after dark at eight o'clock when he rode his bicycle on the sidewalk and collided with somebody. The usual fine was imposed.

Sky and Weather.

Boys who live on farms are generally good weather prophets. They can "guess" with better results than city bred boys, for weather is a very important thing on a farm, and the boys in the country know scores of "signs" which tell them what to expect in the way of sun, rain and wind.

They look upon the sky as the best of weather forecasters, and it is a fact that the color of the sky at particular times is a good guide to the weather conditions to be expected within the coming 24 hours.

A rosy sunset indicates good weather, but if you see a ruddy sunset look out for bad weather.

A bright yellow sky in the evening indicates wind; a pale yellow sky is a hint to take an umbrella with you.

If the sky is of a dull gray in the morning, it will be safe to go ahead with the picnic, for a dull gray morning sky indicates good weather.

If the sky takes on any deep or unusual color, it is safe to say that wind or rain is coming if it is summer, or both wind and snow if it is winter.

R. W. McLEAN AND MEXICO.

A communication from R. W. McLean was printed in the Recorder a few days ago touching upon Mexican prices. He held that Juarez prices were not typical, as Juarez was the "highest priced" town in Mexico. It was against excessively high quotations that The Gazette spoke, for such figures while technically correct, are productive of wrong impressions. The point that concerns American workmen is the effect of free silver in their wages and living expenses, and they can learn this only through honest comparisons. One of the most unbiased reports on Mexican conditions is contained in the "Bulletin of the Bureau of American Republics," which says:

"One of the greatest evils (referring to Mexico) at the present time is the existence of a scale of wages which defies all power of reduction, which robs the laborers of all the sense of dignity or feeling of association with the rest of their fellow-citizens, and, having reduced them to a condition of abject abasement, deteriorates to like extent their productive power and the measure of their ability. They are content to regard themselves as a plant, or machinery which moves by extraneous aid only, and has no power of volition, and no desire to exercise it if it had. This is the condition prevailing in silver countries. It has, under the guise of increased wages, been gradually sapping the very energy and manhood out of the poor. Wages has been forced up twenty per cent in the number of dollars received, but in the actual purchasing power they have decreased 40 per cent. The laborer would each day take less of the necessities of life to his little fireside, and the condition of his family gradually became more wretched. Every day the dollar received was not quite as valuable as at the previous. The money sharks smiled at the way they were stealing from the families of the poor. They paid their workmen as many or more dollars; therefore, the laborer should be thankful for money received."

The rule seems to be universal that no man who has studied the Mexican financial system thoroughly sees any advantage in it for men north of the Rio Grande.

Talk about there being no democrats in the state this year! So many democratic state central committees have been organized that there is danger of striking a committee man every time a small boy throws a stone.

Workingmen who believe that their wages will be doubled to make up for a shrinkage of 50 per cent. in the purchasing power of dollars will vote for Bryan.

It has been a long time since people have tried to make workmen believe that wages paid in 53 cent dollars would buy more groceries.

The man who says "prices have gone down steadily since 1873" must have mislaid the market reports covering the twelve years from 1879 to 1891.

The Constantinople scare came up just in time to give two or three thousand able-bodied seamen a winter on the balmy Mediterranean.

TOMORROW will be Bryan day at the fair.

L. B. CASWELL SPOKE AT THE FAIR TODAY

GOV. CUMBACK UNABLE TO BE PRESENT.

The Fort Atkinson Man Takes His Place and Makes a Stirring Appeal For Good Money and Prosperity—The Attendance Large—Tomorrow's Program.

This was "McKinley day" at the county fair and the attendance was the largest of the week. It was also "Janesville day" and the city people took advantage of the fact.

Although bad weather had prevailed during the first of the week, the sun shone brightly this morning and the air was scarcely a cloud in the sky. There are many strangers in town and when the Imperial band marched down the street, there was a goodly crowd standing on the corners.

"McKinley day" was the drawing card, and the people were anxious to hear Governor Cumback, of Indiana, expound the fallacies of democratic doctrine in general, and the free bery in particular.

In this respect, however, the crowd was disappointed as Governor Cumback failed to arrive. Disappointment soon gave way to good feeling for the announcement was made that Captain Vankirk, chairman of the county republican committee, that Mr. L. B. Caswell, of Fort Atkinson, would speak in Governor Cumback's stead. This arrangement was thoroughly satisfactory to all concerned and a big crowd was listening to the speech. The lateness of the hour prevents the publication of a synopsis of his remarks.

The fun began early today. At nine o'clock the judging of stock in all classes began, starting with the first number on the premium list, and following in rotation until the work is finished. This occupied nearly the whole day.

The Games and Races.

At 10 o'clock the following games for the children occurred:

100 yard foot race for girls under 15 years.
100 yard foot race for boys under 15 years.
One-fourth mile bicycle race for boys under 15 years.
One-fourth mile bicycle race for girls under 15 years.
One-fourth mile pony race for boys under 15 years, ponies under 13 hands.

At 1:30 o'clock the farmers' race was called. The entries were: Flossie, J. M. Hugunin, Janesville. Queen, F. C. Hugunin, Janesville. Babe, Jerome Rhineal, Shopiere. Laura Nutwood, J. L. Fisher, Center.

The 2:25 class trotting race is in progress this afternoon. The entries were:

Jennie Thoms, b m, William L. Stone, Clinton. Baby Bunting, br m, E. T. Tallard, Edgerton. Jack Cutler, br g, J. D. Leroy, Allison, Iowa. Belton, E. C. Brown, Durand, Ill. Kentucky Lew, br h, B. F. Swingley, Freeport, Ill.

Count Folsio, b h, Guy P. Cobb, Mineral Point, Wis.

Massasoit, ch b, F. L. Smith, Janesville.

Exter W, ch m, W. W. Briggs, Racine, Wis.

Happy Jack was scheduled to pace at 4 o'clock.

Most of the stores were closed from 2 to 5 o'clock this afternoon in honor of "Janesville day."

Tomorrow Is Bryan Day.

Tomorrow will be "Bryan day," and a speech will be made by T. O. Richmond, of Madison, who will talk on the silver question. Mr. Richmond is a member of the firm of Richmond & Smith, and is a well known politician. He has stumped the state for the prohibitionists in previous campaigns, and is said to be a particularly powerful speaker.

The program set, originally for today, will be carried out tomorrow, and the attendance will doubtless be large.

The racing program for tomorrow includes the three minute pace and trot, the 2:20 pace, the 2:40 trot. "Happy Jack" will also be exhibited.

All that is needed to make the fair a great success is the attendance. The exhibits are larger than any previous year, and much greater interest is shown in all departments.

Praise From An Expert

Samuel Mitchell, secretary of the Walworth county fair association, was in town yesterday. Secretary Mitchell arrived upon the grounds early and to say that he was surprised at the number and quality of the exhibits is stating it mildly. He was astonished. In the drizzling rain he made the rounds of all the stock exhibits and through all the buildings and halls. After his trip he remarked that he has so far this year attended every fair in the state of any importance, but the exhibits on the Rock county grounds are much more complete than any he had yet seen. All the citizens of Rock county needed, he said, was perfect weather to make it one of the greatest fairs ever given in the state of Wisconsin. He did not even except the State fair or the Walworth county fair.

DEATH ENDS EARTHLY WOES

Ida F. Schmidley.

In the sleep that could but be a rest for both body and spirit, Miss Ida F. Schmidley sank, at the home of her parents, at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. As her eyes closed on the scenes of earth, and her heart became still, a sorrowing family stood grouped about her couch, and tears fell upon the coverlet. It was a brave young life that was cut short when the death angel entered, and a patient soul that winged its way to the home above. For some time Miss Schmidley had been in poor health. Friends noticed the developments of the cough that told, all too plainly, of the throat and lung trouble that was to follow, and although Miss Schmidley herself did not seem to realize the growth of the complaint, her friends were too well aware of what it meant. When, about a year ago, she contracted a severe cold, the complaint began to assume a more dangerous form and for some time previous to her demise she had been confined to her bed. It had been known for some time that there was no hope and her sufferings had been severe.

Miss Schmidley was born in Illinois, March 2, 1869 but had made Janesville her home nearly all her life. She was a member of the Young Ladies' Sodality of St. Mary's church, and leaves besides her parents seven brothers and four sisters. The funeral will be held from St. Mary's church at 10 o'clock Saturday morning. Six brothers will act as pall bearers.

Mrs. E. Mosher.

Mrs. E. Mosher, mother of Mrs. S. Norris and Mrs. J. W. Hinckley, of this city, died of paralysis last night, in Minneapolis, aged eighty-six years. The funeral will be held at Waupun, Saturday, at 2 p. m.

The republican senatorial convention for the Twenty-second district of Wisconsin, was held at the court house this afternoon, convening at 2 o'clock. The representation was as follows:

In Jefferson county: Aztalan, 2; Jefferson, First precinct, 2; Second precinct, 4; Third precinct, 1; Koshkonong, First precinct, 4; Second precinct, 4; Third precinct, 4; Lake Mills, 6; Milford, 2; Oakland, 2; Sumner, 2; Watertown, 1; Watertown village, 2.

C. 2; city of Edgerton, 4; city of Evansville, 6; city of Janesville, First ward, 7; Second ward, 5; Third ward, 7; Fourth ward, 5; Fifth ward, 3.

Thus Jefferson county had 36 votes, and Rock county 76. The total number of votes was 112; necessary to a choice 57.

Session Is Begun.

The convention was organized at 2 o'clock by the election of F. S. Griswold of Lake Mills as chairman and F. W. Coon of Edgerton as secretary. S. C. Burnham called the meeting to order.

The credentials committee, after a lapse of fifteen minutes, reported the following list of delegates from Rock County:

Full List Was Present.

The full roll of the convention showed 112 names—thirty-six delegates from Jefferson county, thirty-three from the first assembly district in Rock and forty-three from the second assembly district in Rock.

Fred Vankirk, W. F. Carle and Dr. Perry were named as tellers. The announcement of an informal ballot brought out some brief but snappy nominating speeches. William Gunn offered the name of John M. Whitehead.

H. H. Macleod arose from the Fourth ward delegation to nominate M. G. Jeffris.

Coming from Fourth ward—which had been listed as solid for Whitehead—this was something of a surprise, although Mr. Macleod explained that he came on Theodore Muesel's proxy.

Jefferson county speaking through John D. Bullock, urged the nomination of L. B. Caswell, Jr., and said that thirty-six Jefferson county delegates were unanimous in his behalf.

Eloquent presentations of Mr. Jeffris' claims on the nomination were made by T. S. Nolan of Janesville and W. S. Heddies of Edgerton. An informal ballot was then ordered. It resulted:

John M. Whitehead.....45
M. G. Jeffris.....31
L. B. Caswell, Jr.....36

Cheers greeted the announcement of the ballot.

The Formal Ballots

The first formal ballot stood: Whitehead, 44; Jeffris, 32; Caswell, 36.

On the second formal ballot the convention seemed to have "gone democratic," there being more votes cast than delegates in the hall. The ballot was declared void. Succeeding ballots stood:

Third—Whitehead, 45; Jeffris, 32; Caswell, 35.

Fourth—Whitehead, 45; Jeffris, 32; Caswell, 35.

ANY one can select a nobby cape or jacket at J. M. Bestwick & Sons', make a small payment on it and pay the balance as able. When cold winter sets in you will have gotten the garment all paid for and hardly felt the outlay. They show a beautiful line.

SEEKING that the popocrats have had such a hard time to get speakers, it may be in order to suggest that by calling on Messrs. E. M. Hyzer and A. M. Valentine, the alleged "democratic" committee can secure, in all probability, some good Simon-pure democratic speakers—such as General Bragg, or Senator Vilas, for instance. They have always stood for democracy in Wisconsin. Real democrats are plenty, but popocrats are scarce. Set?

Let.

The contract of furnishing the count to with 120 tons of coal, was let today to Crossett & Bonesteel, who were the lowest bidders.

METSKER BURIED VERY, VERY DEEP

Beloit Man's Hide Hung On The Fence This Morning.

COATING APPLIED AND THEN RUBBED IN.

Snap Convention In His Behalf Was Controlled By Janesville Men, Who Voted Metsker Out of Existence, and Enforced the Unit Rule, Thus Depriving Him of Two Paltry Votes He Could Control—Mahoney Gets Them All.

It was a fight between a giant and a gnat.

The giant—Hon. John Winans. The gnat—C. W. Metsker.

The giant hung the gnat's hide so high up on the fence that it couldn't be reached with a cane fishing rod.

The "snap convention" was a failure. "Anti-snappers" ran it, and ran it completely.

The democratic county convention at Beloit, we mean.

The convention was called to order in the democratic club room at 10:30 o'clock this morning, and Janesville men were "the whole thing." They dipped Metsker in the pond of defeat, and then they "rubbed it in" with forensic sand paper. Every motion that Metsker made was promptly voted down, and finally he called upon Hon. John Winans, "as a man of honor" to "let up."

Beloit democrats enjoyed the fun as much as Beloit republicans, and as an amusement event, the convention was the best thing the Line City ever saw.

J. L. Mahoney will get the votes of Rock County in the congressional convention, while Metsker—well, he's wiser, at least.

Riordan Is Shelled.

Anything with the mark of Beloit snappishness on it was punched and punched hard. John Riordan, the newly elected county chairman, called the meeting to order, but was immediately squelched by the election of C. O. McLean as chairman and Mr. Thorpe, of Milton, as secretary. This done, the Janesville men proceeded to run things. They divided up into districts and proceeded to elect delegates to the congressional convention, two from each assembly district and two at large. The assembly delegates were:

First District—Isaac F. Connors and C. O. McLean of Janesville.

Second District—Mr. Thorpe, of Milton and Andrew Jensen, of Edgerton.

Third District—John Burns and John Riordan, of Beloit.

Then came a pretty fight on the question of naming delegates-at-large. Mr. Metsker, who had not been discouraged by the frequent rebuffs with which he had met, wanted the delegates to be Hon. John Winans, of Janesville, and some Beloit man. Mr. Winans declined in favor of William Smith. Metsker protested, but the Janesville men turned him down, and William Smith, of Janesville, and R. M. Richmond, of Evansville, were chosen, while Metsker was fairly beside himself.

Unit Rule Adopted.

By way of "rubbing it in" and incidentally insuring that no votes should be given Metsker—even by the delegates from the Beloit district—the unit rule was insisted upon. Hon. John Winans made the motion, and Metsker opposed it.

"I call upon you as a man of honor to withdraw that motion," cried Metsker, whose voice was choking with emotion. "I have a right as a democrat, and by reason of the work I have done for the party, to have a show at the congressional convention" he pleaded. Mr. Winans was obdurate, however, and the unit rule was adopted.

Thus was Metsker's goose—already cooked—burned to a crisp.

J. L. Mahoney was the man the Janesville people were backing in the fight, and he was introduced to the convention. He made a bright speech that caught his hearers, in which he said that he "had no thought that victory was at the end."

Con. Buckley made himself conspicuously questioning the right of Dr. J. B. Whiting to vote in the convention, saying that he understood that the doctor was "not a democrat"—as he would not vote for Bryan. Buckley's objection was looked upon as a great joke—and many people insisted that it was a genuine compliment to the doctor—as the latter gentleman was identified with the democratic party before Mr. Buckley got into "long pants."

Babbitt's Mouth Open

Incidentally it was learned that Clinton Babbitt had his mouth open to catch any political plums that might fall in his direction. In a speech he said, in effect, that it had been told about that he was a candidate for congress. This was not so. He was not a candidate for any office. But if one came his way—it wouldn't make much difference what kind of a job it was—he would free. "onto it, so to speak, and hang on until a certain place—where skates would melt—became sufficiently congealed for him to drag the job around on the ice."

It was a great convention—for the Janesville men—but Mr. Metsker will doubtless be visited by bad dreams tonight.

DOOR OF HOPE NETTED $12 PROFIT

Rev. and Mrs. Baker Did Pretty Well Considering the Times.

Rev. and Mrs. R. E. Baker took in $12 for the Peoria Door of Hope. In good times Rev. Baker says, they would have reached $50. Twelve dollars for four evening's work was good pay, considering the fact that they were boarded free of charge, while Liveryman Daniel Ryan took care of their team of horses for nothing, so that the $12 was "clear money."

ONE of the best all-around comedians that has ever struck the city, is G. Bruce Richardson, of the C. H. Newell Company. He is but twenty-one years of age, and has a very bright future before him in the theatrical world.

Republicans and Democrats Alike Rally Under the Banner of a "Dollar's Worth of Dollar For a Dollar's Worth of Work"—Employees of Both Roads Organize—The Text of the Papers and the Men Who Signed.

Two railway "honest money clubs" were formed in Janesville today.

Sixty-eight men signed the rolls in the short time that they were circulated and that number is but a "starter." The lists are signed by republicans and democrats alike, the signers representing all branches of the railway service.

The agreement signed by C. & N. W. men, and the names signed, are as follows:

Railroad men know what free coinage means, and no mistake.

Both clubs are gotten up by the entirely local men, and have no connection with any clubs formed in other towns. It is likely that a big meeting will be held when the organizations are completed.

SKELETON IN ARMOR.

It Is an Uncanny Relic of Colonial Barbary.

There is an uncanny relic of colonial barbarity on exhibition at Colonial Beach which may soon be added to the curiosities in the National museum, says the Washington Times. It is a tent in front of Wood's hotel, presided over by William Henry Harrison Ca-wood, the discoverer and owner of the horrible-looking object. The relic in question is a human skeleton, incased in an iron armor or frame. The metal is nearly eaten away with the rust of ages and most of the bones have fallen from the rude casement. The skull and leg bones remain in the cage, however, and it would require the services of a blacksmith to remove them. Mr. Ca-wood was a road overseer in King George county, Virginia, several months ago, and while engaged with a gang of laborers in repairing a road-way in that historical old balliwick the skeleton in armor was unearthed. The workmen were cutting for dirt with hoes in an old field to fill up a hole in the highway, when one of them struck an iron substance a short distance beneath the surface. When unearthed it proved to be the rusted armor or cage contain- ing the skeleton of a man who in life was over six feet in height. As soon as the air came in contact with the skeleton some of the bones fell away. The skull, however, remained firm in the crownpiece. Near the cage were found four plain brass buttons the size of a half-dollar. This led some people to believe that the skeleton was that of an English or Spanish officer of colonial days who was welded into the iron frame, hanged on a gibbet or tree and allowed to starve to death in public. The frame or cage in which the grim skeleton is incased is composed of a series of wrought iron strips, its shape indicating that it was made to closely fit the form of the unfortunate man who was doomed to die a lingering death in its iron clasp. At the bottom are two iron shoes on which the feet of the imprisoned wretch rested. The cage about the head is also composed of strips of iron. Just in front of this cage is suspended a hook, on which food was placed to increase the dying agonies of the starving victim. The arms were incased and strapped to the incasement by welded strips of iron. Above the headpiece and running through it is a bolt one inch in thickness and about ten inches in length. The bolt is pivotal and was intended to pass through the tree limb or gibbet-beam and allow the cage and its prisoner to slowly revolve with the wind.

The records of all the counties in the northern neck of Virginia have been searched back into the 1600's to see if anything could be learned of this terrible instrument of torture, but nothing could be found that would throw any light upon it.

Sheep Jumping Hedges.

Anent sheep jumping hedges I may venture here to tell a tale of a certain old rogue who went by the name of Tup-Harry. This is how he got his nickname: Harry was a small farmer and he had a neighbor with better means and a better farm than his own. One very dry season Harry had come to the end of his grass for a flock of sheep he possessed. His neighbor had, however, got a fine field of mangel-wurzel. Harry looked over the hedge—a hedge furnished with outstanding slates—and greatly longed for those mangels for his sheep; but he did not relish the risk of being caught taking them. So he went in the evening into his field, that was bare of grass, put his head against the hedge, bent his back and called: "Tup! Tup! Tup!" whereupon up ran his old ram, jumped on his back, went on to the hedge and over into the mangel field and all the flock in Indian file scampered after him over the back of Harry. Very early in the morning the rogue went into the devastated mangel field, put his head against the edge, bent his back and called: "Tup! Tup! Tup!" and up came the ram, ran over his back on to the edge and returned to the barren quarter again, followed in Indian file by all of the flock. That was done several times and no signs appeared anywhere of the hedge being broken through or of a padlocked gate having been opened. At last the farmer who was robbed hid himself one night and saw the whole proceeding. Tup-Harry did not try that trick on again.—Chambers' Journal.

Another Chinch Bug Killer.

A Missourian is the author of this chinch-bug killer: "Boil about four potatoes as you would boil them to eat; peel and mash, place in a gallon stone jar; thin with water to the consistency of yeast; catch about a pint of chinch-bugs and put them in this mixture and stir well; put in a moderately warm place, cover with a damp cloth and let it set four or five days. Then thin with water and sprinkle over the live bugs in the field and they will become diseased, bunch and die."

BABEES IN PERSIA.

Many of Them Left Who Worship in Secret.

To come to any conclusions as to the extent to which Babees now exist in Persia is most difficult, says the Nineteenth Century. At Kazneen a Georgian who had been many years in the country and was at the time in the service of a high official there told me that he thought that among the rich and educated perhaps one-third were followers of Bab. This is probably an overestimate but that among the classes named there is a large proportion which is dissatisfied with the Islam of the priests is well known. Among the nomads of the hills the Turki tribes and others there are no Babees and these tribes form a large proportion of the population of Persia. One "old white beard," to use the phrase of the country, with whom I breakfasted one day, assured me that such a thing as a Babee has never been seen among the wandering tribes. He added, however, that he had seven daughters who ate and slept, and that he did not trouble himself much about religion, beyond saying his prayers regularly and observing all due conventionalities. Near Kermanshah one day I met a Seyyad, or a descendant of the prophet, who was collecting fleeces—suggestive tribute from the faithful—and he said that there was not a Babee left in all Persia. They had been a polyandrous and immoral set of unbelievers but their fathers were all burned; that is to say, consumed in hell, and there was an end of them. In Hamadan—one of the largest towns in Persia—I have reason to believe, from inquiries made on the spot, that there are very large numbers who in secret hold to the faith of the young and martyred prophet. At Abadeh there certainly are many such, though groomsome pits full of Babees' skulls exist within the walls of the towns. In Khorassan and the western provinces of Persia I have not traveled but my inquiries went to show that in the holy city of Mashad, around the shrine of the Imam Reza itself, Babees abound. It will be obvious from what I have said that I can give no reliable numerical estimate but this need not be considered a serious omission, as no one knows whether the population of Persia at this day is 5,000,000 or, as I think, nearer 8,000,000. It will suffice to say that Babees abound and chiefly among the richer and more educated classes.

ENGLAND, RUSSIA AND INDIA.

The Former a Guardian of Peace in India.

In Asia it has been the steady endeavor of Russian policy since Peter I. to come nearer and nearer to India, says the North American Review. The so-called "last will of Peter the Great" is a proved forgery, but the ideas contained therein have mainly guided the course of the czars for more than a century and a half. By force and fraud and false promises made to England whenever a new attack was prepared against one of the central Asian khanates Russia has made her way gradually through an immense stretch of territory from the Caspian sea up to, and even beyond, the frontier of Afghanistan. Ever renewed breaches of the most solemn assurances—occasionally even given to Queen Victoria by a czar "on the word of a gentleman"—have been the regularly recurring incidents in these modern "Alexander expeditions" toward India. For my part, I believe that in India England acts the useful part of a guardian of peace between contending races and creeds as well as a protector of the security of the country against possible attack from the north. She has, moreover, done away, by her legislation, with some of the worst abuses which were the outgrowth of Indian superstition. She has conferred upon multitudes of Indians the boon of a better system of instruction. She has recently made also some honorable efforts in the direction of popular self-rule within her Asiatic empire. Let the hand of England be withdrawn and to-morrow the bitter feuds of races and religions Then a despotic power, detested by the best intellects in all its own chief cities, would presently step in as a conqueror, with an oppressive military organization, with a host of semi-barbarous hordes as its retinue and with an administration more corrupt than that of any oriental tyranny. Could progress thus be furthered?

Doom of the Derby.

The derby hat is a thing of the past. Time was when no self-respecting race-goer thought of presenting himself upon Epsom Downs without a white hat and a green veil. But this state of things exists no longer. Hats were conspicuous enough at Epsom at the last Derby, but the white hat was conspicuous mainly by its absence, while veils were few and far between.—Boston Post.

Emblems Signifying Excellence.

In England a certain emblem known as the "Hall mark" is placed upon articles to signify that they are made of Sterling silver, and this mark is proof to the prospective purchaser that he is getting metal of the first grade. It would be absurd to place this mark on articles made of metals varying in purity.

The "GARLAND" trade-mark is placed on ONLY THE BEST GRADE of stoves, and this can truthfully be said of no other line of stoves made under one name.

We show the largest line of Garlands this year we ever have before, and to satisfy all comers we show a full line of

Often Done.

He had just returned from an European trip and was telling of his adventures.

"And above all," he said, "I actually had the distinguished honor of playing poker with a king."

The man in the linen coat had listened in silence up to this point, but now his lip curled scornfully as he replied:

"That's nothing. I once played with four kings."

"Really?"

"Sure. Four kings and an ace."—Chicago Post.

Enemies Ever Afterward.

Genevieve—Oh, Beatrice, did Charlie Chillingworth propose to you this morning?

Beatrice (blushing)—Why, whatever can have made you ask that question? Ye—yes, he proposed, and we're to be married in a year, if papa will give his consent.

Genevieve—There, I owe Charlie a box of candy! He bet me that you'd jump at him if he asked you, and I gave you credit for having more sense.—Cleveland Leader.

The Other Way.

Julian—I notice that you do not allow the waiters to dress in the regulation swallow-tail.

Hotel Prop.—No, indeed. They and the swells looked too much alike.

Julian—Whose kick compelled you to make the change? The swells?

Prop.—No, indeed. The waiters.—N. Y. World.

A Question of Hearts.

Edith—So you've gone and engaged yourself to Tom Sewter, and you told me only last week that you wouldn't have him if there wasn't another man in the world.

Bertha—Well, what could I do? He asked me for my heart and I hadn't the heart to refuse him.—Boston Transcript.

Soldiers Too Common.

Mother—Ella, you have been playing all the afternoon with these toy soldiers. That's not a proper amusement for a big girl like you.

Daughter—But, mamma, I am not playing with the soldiers. I picked out the officers and played with them.—Texas Sifter.

Circumstances Alter Cases.

Gilhooley—The chaplain of the house of representatives gets six dollars for praying only five minutes.

Gus De Smith—That's big pay. I've got a friend right here in Dallas who prayed a whole week for a dollar, and didn't get it.—Texas Sifter.

Still Waiting.

"I am waiting, only waiting
Where the shadows do not fall,
After long anticipating,
For an early morning call;
I am waiting, only waiting,
Where the icy waters roll,
Keep me not anticipating."
Sang the lonely old North Pole.
—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Very Well Put.

"This, ladies and gentlemen, is the celebrated trick mule, Dot," said the clown, as the beast was being led into the ring. "After many years of effort, I am able to say I can make him do anything he wants to."—Tit-Bits.

Sharp Eyed Ushers.

He (indignantly)—Those insulting church ushers put us into a back pew.

She (calmly as a quiescent volcano)—They probably noticed that I wore a bonnet which I wouldn't care to have seen.—N. Y. Weekly.

Much Cry and No Wool.

Let dogs delight to bark and bite—
You've heard that same remark;
But when it comes to fistic fight,
The human pugs just bark.

HOPEFUL.

"You don't think she would marry me for my money, do you?"

"I don't know. You might try."—Truth.

A Change for the Worse.

In simple gowns she ate ice cream,
Alack! Ere long she will begin
To wear a sealskin coat and seem
Content with naught but terrapin.
—Washington Star.

A Crusty Comment.

"That's just what she would do should she marry you," roared the old gentleman.—Detroit Free Press.

"Yes, it is, with the accent on the rot."—N. Y. World.

Before the finished fruit came bud and blossom. Bud grows into blossom and blossom into fruit. And so girlhood merges into womanhood and the woman into motherhood.

The two most critical times in a woman's life are the times which make the girl a woman, and the woman a mother. At these times, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is of incalculable value. It strengthens and invigorates the organs distinctly feminine, promotes regularity of the functions, allays irritation and inflammation, checks unnatural, exhausting drains, and puts the whole delicate organism into perfect condition. Almost all the ills of womanhood are traceable to some form of what is known as "female complaint." There are not three cases in a hundred of woman's peculiar diseases that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will not cure.
